

The Ten Commandments of Gun Safety:

1. Always keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction.
2. Firearms should be unloaded when not actually in use.
3. Don't rely on your gun's safety.
4. Be sure of your target and what's beyond it.
5. Use proper ammunition.
6. If your gun fails to fire when the trigger is pulled, handle with care.
7. Always wear eye and ear protection when shooting.
8. Be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions before shooting.
9. Don't alter or modify your gun and have it serviced regularly.
10. Learn the mechanical and handling characteristics of the firearm you are using.

The Game of Trapshooting

There are five shooters at five different stations, 16 yards from the trap house. Each shooter shoots one shot at each of five targets at each station. There are a total of 25 targets in a round of trap. Shooters are required to wear eye and ear protection. Shooters load only one shell at a time, when it is his/her turn to shoot. When not shooting, shooters keep their actions open and the gun pointed in a safe direction.

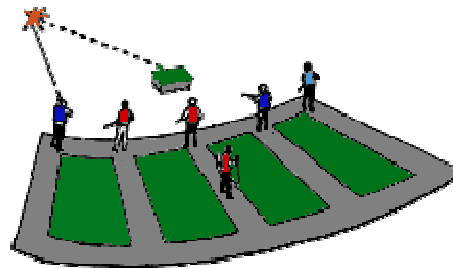

The Squad Leader is the person at the first station. The Squad Leader will ask the other shooters, "Squad Ready?". When the squad is ready the Squad Leader then asks if the Puller is ready, "Puller ready?" After the Puller has replied, the Squad Leader says, "Eyes forward, let's see a target". The puller releases a clay target from the trap house for the squad to see.

The Squad Leader begins the round by calling, "Pull", shoots the first target and the round is started. Shooting then continues down the line for positions 2 through 5 with each shooter taking one shot. When the squad has shot at five targets they advance to the next station. The Pull will call out, "Out and Rotate." With their chambers empty, actions open, and guns pointed in a safe direction, the squad rotates from 1-2, 2-3, 3-4, 4-5, and 5-1. The Puller will call out scores as the squad is rotating to the new positions. When the Squad Leader determines that all shooters are in place, the second round begins. The Squad Leader calls for another target and the next round is started. After the last shooter has shot his or her last shot the Puller will say, "Out and Over", and the round is over. The squad should not move until the last target is shot in any round.

Clay targets are thrown in random directions from a 'trap machine' in a 'trap house' when a button is depressed by the 'Puller.' The Puller is also the scorekeeper. The target machine oscillates left to right continuously so that targets are launched at random angles from the house. This is a reactive sport. The shooter must see the target and react to its direction of travel, in order for the target to be broken.

About Our League Sundays 1- 3 p.m.

This is an "Open Trap League" which means we range from those who have never shot before to accomplished Trap Shooters. We generally run 10-week sessions but you may join at any time. We shoot for fun and we allow members to have 'shoot ahead' scores or 'make-up' scores. Our members strive to help beginners with their technique so shooting is fun and not disappointing.

Membership: $25 and you receive reduced prices on rounds.
